Yellow warning
Rain

Between 18:00 Sat 12 Sep 2020 and
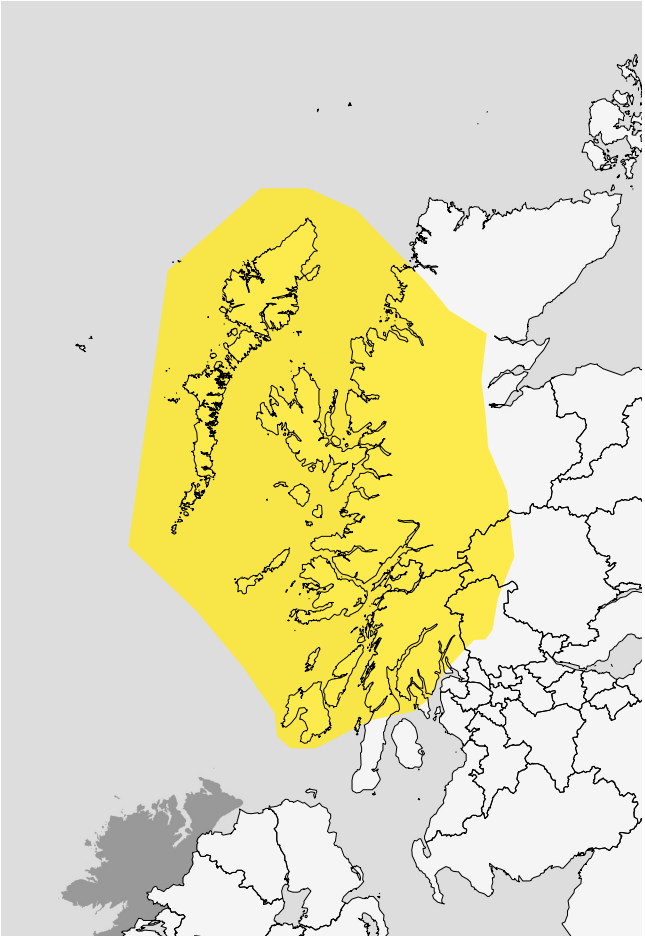
23:59 Sun 13 Sep 2020



Heavy, persistent rain is expected over western Scotland during Saturday evening and through much of Sunday and may lead to some disruption.

What to expect

- Where flooding occurs, there is a chance of delays or cancellations to train and bus services
- Spray and flooding could lead to difficult driving conditions and some road closures
- There is a small chance that some communities become cut off
- There is a small chance that homes and businesses could be flooded, causing damage to some buildings
- There is a slight chance of power cuts and loss of other services to some homes and businesses

Further details

A band of heavy and persistent rain will arrive across western Scotland during Saturday evening, and continue through much of Sunday. Many places in the highlighted region will see 25-50 mm of rainfall. However, over the hills and mountains, peak totals of 150-180 mm are likely during this time.

In association with the rainfall, there will be a period of strong southwesterly winds. Although these are not expected to be overly impactful, they may make travelling conditions more challenging in places.
